American Historical Series

GENERAL EDITOR

CHARLES H. HASKINS

Professor of History in Harvard University

American Historical Series

Under the editorship of CHARLES H. HASKINS, Professor of History in Harvard University.

A series of text-books intended, like the American Science Series, to be comprehensive, systematic, and authoritative. The series will aim to justify the title "American" not only by its American authorship but also by specifically regarding American educational needs.

The treatment will be descriptive as well as narrative, and due attention will be given to economic and social conditions and to institutional development.

The series, as at present arranged for, is as follows:

Renaissance and Reformation.

By CHARLES W. COLBY, Professor in McGill University. [In preparation.]

Europe in the XVII. and XVIII. Centuries.

By SIDNEY B. FAY, Professor in Dartmouth College. [In preparation.]

The French Revolution and Napoleon.

By R. C. H. CATTERALL, Professor in Cornell University. [In preparation.]

Europe Since 1815.

By CHARLES D. HAZEN, Professor in Smith College. $3.00.

Mediaeval and modern Europe.

By CHARLES W. COLBY, Professor in McGill University. [In preparation.]

History of Greece.

By PAUL SHOREY, Professor in the University of Chicago. [In preparation.]

History of Rome.

By JESSE B. CARTER, Director of the American School of Classical Studies at Rome. [In preparation.]

History of the United States.

By FREDERIK J. TURNER, Professor in Harvard University. [In preparation.]

Historical Atlas.

By WILLIAM R. SHEPHERD, Professor in Columbia University. $2.50.

PLAN OF THE ACROPOLIS OF ATHENS

PLAN OF THE ACROPOLIS OF ATHENS

Scale 1:10 000

0 100 200 Yards

The plan shows the Acropolis of Athens, a fortified hill in the center of the city. The main structures are the Parthenon, Propylaea, Erechtheion, and Temple of Athena Nike. The plan is surrounded by a wall, with the city of Athens (Athena) to the west and the city of Eleusis to the east. The plan is labeled with various letters and numbers, and a scale bar indicates a scale of 1:10,000.

Scale 1: 10 000 yards

Red coloring indicates dates of the time before the Persian Wars. White coloring shows the dates following those of the Roman period. The adjacent numbers indicate the years of construction or consecration.

The area directly subject to an archbishop is indicated by surface coloring. In Italy the dioceses were so numerous that no attempt has been made to trace their boundaries. The dates refer to the founding of the bishopric or monastery concerned.

The insertion of the names of comparatively so large a number of monasteries in France and Germany is designed to give an idea of their approximate distribution, in those countries, among the several orders mentioned. Many monasteries, of course, were located in the seats of archbishoprics and bishoprics. The double underlining of a name in the same color shows the place of origin of a particular order; in different colors, the fact that the charge of the monastery shifted from one order to another.

Explanation

This ground-plan is a reduced copy from the ninth century original preserved in the present monastery library. It represents an ideal Benedictine house, and was probably not carried out in complete detail. The enclosure, surrounded by a wall, was about four hundred feet long by about three hundred wide. - 1. Entrance to the church from outside the walls. 2. Church with two apses and numerous altars. 3. Main cloister, showing arches. 4. Dormitory above, room with heating apparatus below. 5. Refectory below, wardrobe above. 6. Cellar with storehouses above. 7. House for pilgrims and poor travellers, with brewery and bakery adjoining. 8. Writing-room below, library above. 9. Living-room and dormitory for visiting monks. 10. Schoolmaster's lodging. 11. School-room for ordinary pupils with lodgings for the teachers. 12. Porter's lodge. 13. Quarters for guests of quality. 14. Brewery and bakery belonging to 13. 15. Towers with spiral staircases, overlooking the whole place. 16. Large building of unknown use. 17. Sheep-stall. 18. Servants' quarters. 19. Goat-stall with goatherds' quarters. 20. Swine-stall with swineherds' quarters. 21. Little-shed with cowherds' quarters. 22. Horse-barn with grooms' quarters. 23. Stable for mares and azen with hay-lofts above and quarters for servants in the middle. 24. Workshops of coopers and turners. 25. Storehouse for brewery-grain. 26. Fruit-drying house. 27. Brewery and bakery for the resident monks, showing mortars and hand-mills. 28. Workshops of shoemaker, saddlers, sword- and shield-makers, carvers, tanners, goldsmiths, blacksmiths, fullers. 29. Granary and threshing-floor. 30. House of poultry-keeper, hen-house and goose-pen adjoining. 31. House of the gardener, kitchen-garden adjoining. The original gives names of vegetables on the several beds. 32. Burying-ground. 33. Cloister and living-rooms of the oblati and their teacher, and of convalescents. 34. Church for the novices and the ill. 35. Cloister and living-rooms, especially for the seriously ill. 36. Hospital-garden. 37. Physician's quarters, apothecary-shop and rooms for patients. 38. Additional building for surgical purposes. 39. Abbot's house, showing entrance to church and to main cloister.

This plan of a manor is wholly conventional. It is intended to show: (1) the various features that might be found in English manors (or villas) of the mediaeval period; (2) the more important changes in the agricultural system which occurred in England from the fourteenth century onward. Many of these manorial features, of course, appeared in similar domains on the continent.

1800	By reference to the figures in each column, it will be seen that the colored strips extending from one vertical line to another indi- cate the maximum number of slaves, or of pounds of a certain agricultural product, recorded during any of the decennial years.
1790	The shorter strips are propor- tioned in size to this representation, of the maximum number. In the absence of any strip, the figures alone mean that the number of slaves, or of pounds of a certain agricultural product, was less than one tenth of the maximum.

The purpose of this chart is to suggest a possible relation between the sectionalization of slavery and the growth of the staple agricultural products in the Southern States. Unfortunately the Reports of the Census Bureau of the United States, from which the figures are taken, do not supply agricultural statistics before 1840. Although a slave-holding State, Delaware is not included in the list, because the amount of any of the staple agricultural products raised there was too small for the purpose of comparison.

INDEX

UNLESS otherwise indicated, the names given are those of towns. The Index does not furnish a complete set of references to the more important countries at successive periods of time. The maps needful for this purpose may be found by consulting the Table of Contents.

Modern names of ancient localities and different spellings of the same name are sometimes inclosed in parentheses, sometimes noted by cross-references. Though not appearing on the maps themselves, a considerable number of classical and medieval Latin names, and of different spellings of the same name, have been inserted in the Index with the proper cross-reference to the modern or customary form of such names.

If not accompanied by the letters B. C., the dates cited are A. D.

The number following a name refers to the page on which the name appears. The capital letter or letters following this number usually refer to a strip on that page inclosed by lines of longitude, and the small letter or letters, to a strip inclosed by lines of latitude. The name itself lies within the block formed by the intersection of the two strips. Thus the name Madrid 83 K g will be found on page 83, within the block formed by the intersection of the strip lettered K and the strip lettered g. In some cases, however, the letter or letters refer to a particular plan or inset on the page concerned.
